at Lake Tahoe, except for mooring buoys in designated areas. This action was taken pending completion of an EIR, which addresses the cumulative impact of continued construction of piers in Lake Tahoe. Each of the applications herein are for the continued use of existing piers and buoys in the lake and, therefore, are not subject to the Commission's suspension of leasing activities for new construction.

3. Permits covering structures in Lake Tahoe will include a condition subsequent that if any structure authorized is found to be in nonconformance with the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency's Shorezone ordinance, and if any alterations, repairs, or removal required pursuant to said ordinance are not accomplished within the designated time period, then the permit will be automatically terminated, effective upon notice by the State, and the site shall be cleared pursuant to the terms thereof.
4. The multiple-association concept is a product of months of staff negotiations involving circumstances not specifically addressed in PRC 6503.5 which authorizes issuance of rent-free Recreational Pier Permits to nonprofit corporations and associations which meet specific criteria. The Code, however, does not address situations in which more than one Corporation or Association has use rights to the same littoral parcel. The multiple-interest situation surfaced in May of 1980 when Water's Edge Condominium Association (a permittee of the State Lands Commission) removed 20⁺ buoys not belonging to them, from Lake Tahoe waters adjacent to their littoral upland. The removal of the buoys precipitated a sharp dispute between its members and those of Tahoe Cedar's Homeowners Association, the Sugar Pine Homeowners Association, and four other individuals, who are permittees of the State Lands Commission as to who had rights for buoy placement. Each association and numerous individuals have easement rights to the same littoral upland. As a consequence, some nine-hundred (900) individuals who live in three subdivision areas near or adjacent to the littoral parcel do or could claim certain littoral rights.

The staff became involved when individuals complained about unauthorized buoy removal and the El Dorado Court District Attorney asked for staff's assistance in solving the problem as an alternative to possible criminal trespass actions. It was obvious to the staff that the area adjacent to the subject upland could not support 900[±] potential buoys, and that it would be administratively impractical to deal with each individual having an interest in the littoral upland. Since all of the individuals had or could have representation through one of the three homeowners associations, it was decided that a single permit issued jointly to all three association for a limited number of buoys would be an equitable and administratively acceptable solution. Under the multiple-association permit, the associations would jointly administer, and control a limited buoy field adjacent to the uplands in accordance with all governmental bodies having jurisdiction (including the United States Army Corps of Engineers, Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, and California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency).

The associations, after months of bickering, agreed to the multiple association concept and signed an agreement pending State Lands Commission approval. The agreement included a pier and 54 buoys.
