"The Legislature of California hereby consents to the retrocession of jurisdiction by the United States of land within this State upon and subject to each and all of the following express conditions:

The United States now holds exclusive legislative jurisdiction over Parks Reserved Forces Training Center at Pleasanton, Alameda County, California. The United States proposes to use part of the facility as a shelter for homeless persons. The United States, pursuant to Cal. Gov. Code Sec. 113, by letter dated July 16, 1984, has written to Governor Deukmejian, requesting the State of California to accept a retrocession of so much jurisdiction as to allow it and the State exercise concurrent jurisdiction over the area to be occupied by the homeless.

A Public hearing was scheduled in the Sacramento offices of the Commission on September 21, 1984, for the purpose of determining whether it was in the best interest of the state to adjust the jurisdiction of the United States. Notice thereof was published in the Oakland Tribune and notice of said hearing was personally served on the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County. Affidavits of publication and service are filed in the records of the Commission.

The hearing was held as noticed. No comments regarding the adjustment were received at the hearing.

The retrocession would be in the best interest of the State in connection with the administration of local police power over the area.
