OTHER PERTINENT INFORMATION:

1. This lease covers an offshore marine terminal that was to be used for an interim period of time, pending the construction of pipeline(s) for transporting Santa Barbara crude oil to the producers' refinery destination of choice. The lease, which originally expired on April 30, 1991, was extended under its holdover provision for the maximum allowed period until April 30, 1992. That extension has expired.

The complexity of resolving the oil transportation issues and terminal permitting process, and changes in the project description, made it impossible for the County of Santa Barbara, acting as Lead Agency, to certify the Supplemental Environmental Impact Report/Statement (SEIR/S) and consider the necessary actions to permit tankering of Point Arguello oil through the terminal prior to the expiration date of the holdover period. Earlier this year, a "Facilitation Process" initiated by the Governor and chaired by the Secretary for Resources developed a framework for resolving the oil transportation stalemate. Participants included the County, California Coastal Commission, and representatives of local citizens and the industry.

On July 15, 1992, the Santa Barbara County Planning Commission approved modification to the Gaviota Interim Marine Terminal (GIMT) Final Development Plan (FDP), originally approved in 1986. These modifications addressed the cessation of feasible mitigations of potential tankering impacts. On SEIR/S for the construction, operation and use of the GIMT, issued a shipper's permit to the Point Arguello Producers for the use of the terminal and set a deadline for the cessation of tankering.

The County's permit action on Point Arguello project was appealed to the Coastal Commission and are expected to be heard in October 1992. At the same time, the Coastal Commission is expected to hear GTC's application for a new permit to operate the GMT, with final action expected no earlier than November.

Under the State Permit Streamlining Act, the Commission has up to 180 days in which to act on GTC's interim lease application. Staff expects the Commission to consider the proposed lease shortly after the Coastal Commission takes its action.

The proposed 1-year extension of the holdover period will extend GTC's interest in, and right to the use of, its terminal site, which is required by the Coastal Commission at the time it considers GTC's permit application.

3. Pursuant to the Commission's delegation of authority and the State CEQA Guidelines (14 Cal. Code Regs. 15061), the staff has determined that this activity is exempt from the requirements of the CEQA as
