2. A 700-foot long, 40-foot wide, 20-foot tall rock revetment was constructed in 1998 under emergency conditions on the face and at the foot of a coastal bluff. The wall was constructed after storms caused 40 to 60 feet of bluff erosion at the project site and left remnants of the then existing rock revetment scattered across the public beach. The bluff retreat damaged several of the bluff-top residences on Esplande Drive. As a result, the City determined that ten residences on the seaward side of Esplande Drive were unsafe to occupy. The City, with FEMA funds, purchased the ten condemned residences. On May 6, 1998, the City demolished seven of the ten residences. The three remaining residences were removed a year-and-a-half later.

The existing revetment was constructed to prevent further erosion of a coastal bluff. By decreasing bluff retreat at the site, the revetment protects public access across bluff-top property to the beach, a public road, and public-serving utilities from damage or destruction; additionally two private residences are protected, lessening the need for the City to spend public monies for acquisition and demolition.

3. On August 8, 2002, the California Coastal Commission (CCC) granted Permit # CDP-130-98 for this project under its certified regulatory program (Title 14, California Code of Regulations, section 15251(c)).
4. Staff has reviewed the document and determined that the conditions, as specified in Title 14, California Code of Regulations, section 15253(b), have been met for the Commission to use the environmental analysis document certified by the CCC as an equivalent in order to comply with the requirements of the CEQA.
5. This activity involves lands identified as possessing significant environmental values pursuant to Public Resources Code sections 6370, et seq. Based upon the staff's consultation with the persons nominating such lands and through the CEQA review process, it is the staff's opinion that the project, as proposed, is consistent with its use classification.
