open-ticket riverboat tours, namely, the "Matthew McKinley" and the "Spirit of Sacramento" along portions of the Old Sacramento waterfront between the I Street Bridge and the Tower Bridge, commonly known as the "tour boat dock". Channel Star sold its interests to Sacramento Yacht Charters, LLC. At the Commission's December 8, 2005, meeting, it approved an Amendment and Assignment of the Sublease from Channel Star Excursions, Inc., to Sacramento Yacht Charters, LLC, for the operation of the "Matthew McKinley" and the "Spirit of Sacramento".

The City's agreement with Sacramento Yacht Charters, LLC, was scheduled to expire in April 2007; therefore, the City issued a Request for Proposals in the spring of 2006 seeking proposals for a riverboat operation for the Old Sacramento waterfront at the above-referenced "tour boat dock". Sacramento Yacht Charters, LLC, was chosen by the City to provide the riverboat tours. On November 21, 2006, the Sacramento City Council approved the agreement with Sacramento Yacht Charters, LLC, hereinafter called "Sublease". The new Sublease was expanded to include new services not provided under the old riverboat agreement, specifically the provision of amphibious trolley tours and water taxi services. The City is seeking approval from the Commission of the new Sublease. Staff has reviewed the Sublease and finds it is consistent with the Master Lease.

Charter Vessel Sublease:

In September 2004, the City issued a Request for Proposal seeking boat operators to provide charter services from the City's south barge, located south of the Tower Bridge. Sacramento Yacht Charters was selected to provide the charter boat services and a separate agreement (Sublease) was negotiated and approved by the Sacramento City Council on November 21, 2006. The City is seeking approval from the Commission of the new Sublease. Staff has reviewed the Sublease and finds it is consistent with the Master Lease.
